Fern Watson 6th VIP

Some persons rise rapidly to a position of importance, based upon some significant accomplishment or act of leadership. Others merit recognition because of an entire life of dedication and involvement.

In Antioch, Fern Watson is one of these life-long V.I.P.'s. She who diligently instructed two generations of first graders at the Antioch Grade School, who devoted most of more than 50 years to education, and has given her time and energy to Church and civic activities well-deserves to be the 1974 V.I.P.

She will be honored at St. Peter's sixth annual V.I.P. Dinner-Dance, Saturday evening, March 30. Fern is the first woman so honored, in the company of Jim McMillen, W. C. Petty, Bill Brook, Rudy Eckert and Al Dittman.

Such devotion was not an beginning in the country grade school she walked to for eight years. In high school, she was sometimes called upon to substitute for grade school teachers who became ill. To achieve her goal, she attended the Illinois State Teachers College, now Illinois State University, at Normal. After graduation from the National College of Education in Evanston, Fern took a position in the Antioch Grade School.

That was in 1920. For 32 years she came to the school buildings at the corner of Main and Depot Streets to meet her first graders. For about a dozen of those years, she was teaching her second generation of Antiochians.

From 1952 to 1956, she taught at Washington School in Waukegan, finally retiring to travel with her husband. Even unusual quality in this slender, graceful woman. "I came from a very religious home; we always were together as a family. Our interests centered around the church," she says.

Home was a large, picturesque farmhouse near Pittsfield, Illinois, 75 miles west of Springfield. She was the seventh of eight girls in the family, four of whom became teachers. Her two brothers were farmers. Since the death of her sister last year, Fern is the only living member of the family.

She recalls that she always wanted to be a teacher, during those years, she made herself available for substitute teaching each year and also taught remedial reading at Silver Lake, Wisconsin. She retired again a couple years ago.

Outside the classroom, Fern has made a name for herself, too. She is a fifty-year member of the Order of the Eastern Star and has served on the Grand Chapter committees of that group. With other area ladies, she has been quite active in the Delta Kappa Gamma sorority for teachers.

Antioch Mental Health Association donates $5,000.

During a meeting at Lorenz's Smart Country House, the Antioch Mental Health Association members voted to donate an additional $5,000 to the Grove School for the Multiple Handicap children.

Grove School is grateful in having two angels that will be doubling any future donations, so the $5,000 automatically become $15,000.

The Mental Health Association hopes that the business men and residents of Antioch are aware of their great gratitude for their support through donations and tickets to the Annual Mental Health Ball. Also the generous patronage of the Thrift Shop, in Antioch is a great benefit. Without this continued support their purpose would not be accomplished.

May 4, 1974 is the date chosen for the Ninth Annual Mental Health Cotillion put on by these ambitious women. Plan to attend.

HEADS STUDY GROUP. State Bank president Bill Brook addresses the 12 members of the Chain-o-Lakes Study Commission after being unanimously chosen as chairman of the group. Murphy, who sponsored the legislation creating the group to study the problems of the water-recreation area. (Staff photo)

Bill Brook heads Lakes Study Commission

Bill Brook of Antioch was chosen Friday to head the newly formed Chain-O-Lakes Study Commission. The 12-member commission, created by legislation guided through the General Assembly by Rep. W. J. Murphy, is directed to study the problems of the Chain and to recommend courses of action.

Other officers named Friday are: State Rep. John Matejevich of North Chicago, vice-chairman, and Rita Zeleny of Highland Park, secretary. Ms. Zeleny also owns a home in Vacation Village, which is on the Chain near Fox Lake. Gerri Gerretsen of Fox Lake, was hired by the Commission as recording secretary.

Murphy explained that the Commission is composed of two State Senators and two State Representatives from each political party. In addition each party leader from each of the two houses appointed one public member to the Commission.

Both Murphy and Brook emphasized that this is a study commission and will chiefly be concerned with gathering as much information as is available on the Chain-O-Lakes. Brook said that, as chairman, he will try to get as many meetings of the group as possible. Authorization for the Commission ends July 1.

According to Murphy, who sponsored the legislation creating the Commission, it will have the responsibility of writing recommendations to the General Assembly at the conclusion of the study. The legislators will then decide what action is to be taken.

In speaking to the members of the Commission and the press, Murphy said that the attitude of the State toward the Chain has

Grade School Board seeks to retain administrators

At a special meeting of the Board of Education, Antioch Grade School District 34, Monday night, new contracts were offered to all present administrators.

Superintendent Henry Meyer was asked to stay on for at least two more years, as a motion was approved to offer him a contract for that length of time.

A motion was made and approved to offer contracts for the 1974-75 school year to: Harlan Ware, Walter Soderman, William Herbst, Ronald Marten and Samuel Kohr.

"It behooves us then," the veteran lawmaker continued, "to . . . make a vigorous and demanding ultimatum to the State that it rescind its position of allowing this natural resource to continue to eutrophy and eventually return to slough, resulting in terrifying loss to property owners and to the economy of an entire area."

He warned the Commission members against expecting quick solutions, but to "proceed on a reasonable course . . . and set a goal for eventual completion."

Brook said that he is personally greatly concerned with water manipulation policies on the Chain. He added that there are certainly many, many other problems to be studied, but that water control — with its resultant flooding and silting — might be considered a priority item.

The State Bank president has been an active conservationist for much of his life. He is currently involved in both the Northern Illinois Conservation Club and the 885 Club. In addition, he is active in numerous community organizations and served for 15 years on the Antioch Community High School Board. He is a life-long resident of Antioch.

Next meeting of the Commission is set for Friday, March 1st.

Money matters concern Grade School Board

Money became a major item of concern for the Board of Education of Antioch Grade School District 34 at the monthly meeting, February 12. Several items in the budget are running considerably higher than projected, with little apparent hope for remedying the situation.

Superintendent Henry Meyer reported that Special Education costs will be about $1,900 more than contained in the budget. The reason, he said, is that the District was pre-billed by SEDOL at the beginning of the year on the basis of 26 students. Actually the District has 36 special ed. students, but the discrepancy was not caught at the time the budget was approved.

Also, Meyer said, maintenance costs will be more than allowed in the budget because of the need for more overtime than estimated. These costs are currently running about $1,000 over the budget figure.

The cost of the lunch program elicited much discussion from Board members. At present, that program is about $5,000 in the red, according to the Superintendent. Business Manager Sam Kohr indicated to Meyer that he hopes to bring that figure down to about $3,000 by the end of the school year; however, Meyer expressed doubt that this could be done.

Kohr told the Antioch News that the higher costs are due chiefly to higher food costs than were contained in the bids submitted at the beginning of the year, and a decrease in the amount of foodstuffs available through government surplus programs. These latter items must be purchased at prevailing market costs now, besides which the District must bear the cost of having them delivered.

Commenting on the higher food costs, Kohr said that the suppliers had reserved the right to charge according to the market throughout the school year. Meat costs, especially, he said, have soared. Looking at food costs on the whole, the Business Manager said they are running about 12 percent higher this year over last year's figures.

Kohr said that his prediction of only a $3,000 deficit by the end of the year was merely an estimate. He pointed out that last year's lunch program had ended up about $4,000 in the black, so that the two years might balance each other out.

Meyer told the Board that he could see only three alternatives to continued deficits in the lunch program: reduce the labor costs per meal, reduce the quantity of food per serving (presently quantities are above the minimum), or raise the price of a lunch.

In looking over the bills, Board members also expressed dismay with the electric bill. Even with extending the Christmas vacation and going on daylight saving time, they said, the monthly bill is running about the same as previously.

Board member Robert Kelley asked the other members to consider purchasing a P.A. system for Oakland School. He said that he had investigated the cost and found it to be about $1,600. However, Kelley said, since he knew that the budget was tight for this year, he would be satisfied if the Board would agree to consider the item for next year's budget, which they said they would do. During the discussion it was brought out that conduits for the P.A. wiring are already installed in the building.

Also, the Board agreed to sponsor participation by 12 girls from the Upper Grade School in a volleyball tournament in May. Meyer brought the matter to the Board, he said, because of a policy announced when the school programs were cut that athletic activities would not be sponsored. The volleyball program, he added, would not cost the school anything. However, the girls need official sponsorship in order to attend.

"I think the intent of the Board two years ago was to save money, not to jeopardize student participation in athletics," Meyer said. The Board agreed with this point of view.

On the recommendation of the Superintendent, the Board changed the "nepotism" policy. The new policy will allow two or more members of the same family to be employed by their District, but they must not be assigned to the same building, nor shall one be given a position of authority over the other.

Paul Epner, president of the Antioch Elementary Education Association, told the Board that the Association is seeking to enter into a blood bank program similar to that at St. Peter's parish. Epner invited Board members and all non-certified personnel to participate.

A three-hour executive session punctuated the middle of the meeting. During that time the Board members discussed a Special Education case that has occupied them for several months. They also considered a review of administration and contracts for the 1974-75 school year. This latter item was tabled for further consideration at a special meeting on Monday, the 18th.

Wild driving, assault lead to arrests

Two young Antioch men were arrested by police Friday afternoon, following a wild driving spree in the downtown area.

Police first learned of the reckless driver when Village Trustee Mike Haley called to report that he had nearly been run down while crossing Victoria Street in front of his business establishment. Haley said that he had to jump out of the way of the northbound auto to avoid being hit. The driver skidded to a halt, barely missing a car stopped at the intersection, and a passenger in the car began shouting obscenities out the window.

While Haley was calling the police, the car sped south on Victoria, according to another witness, and east on Quality Street. The witness said that the car nearly hit two pedestrians at that corner and two cars when it ran through the stop sign at Quality and Main. Following the errant driver, the witness observed him force three cars off the road on Main and narrowly miss another pedestrian.

While this witness and another went to the police station, the reckless driver finally lost control of his car, which came to a rest on the sidewalk on the east side of Victoria Street just south of Lake. Notified of the accident, Police Sergeant Tim Zelinski and the Antioch Rescue Squad were dispatched to the scene.

On his arrival, Zelinski reported, the passenger from the car, whom he identified as Scott Stickler, of 281 Bridge-wood, Antioch, was outside the car grabbing and shouting obscenities at a bystander. When Stickler was told that he was under arrest for Disorderly Conduct, he began striking out wildly at those standing around, Zelinski said. He was subdued, after a scuffle, by Zelinski and two of the bystanders.

At this point, the police sergeant also placed the driver, identified as Michael Mathews, of 403 Maplewood, Antioch, under arrest for Reckless Driving. Observing three cans of beer in the car, Zelinski also charged Mathews with Possession of Alcoholic Beverage by a Minor.

At the police station, while Stickler was being placed in a cell, Mathews made a dash for the rear door and ran out across Main Street. He was apprehended in an alleyway on the east side of the street by two of the witnesses who were at the station.

Because of his attempted escape, Mathews was searched by Officer Gerald Hannum, who found a small plastic bag in one of his pockets. The bag contained a substance which Zelinski tested and identified as cannabis. This evidence will be sent to the Northern Illinois Crime Lab for further verification.

In addition to the two charges mentioned above, Mathews has been charged with Reckless Conduct, Escape, and Possession of Cannabis.

Stickler has also been charged with Resisting a Peace Officer and Aggravated Assault.

Both were released on bond, pending court appearances in Waukegan on March 20th.

Comments on planning

Thursday night's Planning Commission meeting, at which several property owners from North Main street expressed their disagreement with the recommendation not to allow any further rezoning for multiple-family uses along that stretch of street, prompts several thoughts.

STICK TO YOUR GUNS, PLANNERS

The Planning Commission based its recommendation on solid reasoning. It would be unfortunate now if they were to back down under pressure.

While the effect of rezoning any one particular piece of property would seem minimal, the entire area must be considered as a whole. If one property were rezoned, other property owners would petition for the same advantage. Eventually the entire stretch of North Main would be a piecemeal disarray of small apartment buildings, each of a different design, each generating a small fleet of cars to jam the Village's major north-south thoroughfare.

If any property owner can make a good case for rezoning, then it should be considered on its merits. But the pressure created by such a project for further rezoning must also be weighed.

WHY NOT A PARK ON THE YOUNG PROPERTY

A possible solution for the Young's would be a proposal that has been suggested before. The present Village Park is in need of expansion. Since part of the Young property abuts the park, it makes sense for the Village to consider purchasing the land for park use. Such a course of action could answer the question of what to do with the land-locked lots on the west side of the railroad tracks in this area. With the zoning recommendation, they become practically useless for any other purpose and a burden to the owners.

Money, of course, is a problem here, as the Village does not have much to spare and must establish priorities. However, $30,000 was found recently to buy three land-locked, treeless acres in another part of the town. We feel that the problem is not insurmountable, if the Village fathers put their minds to it. Creation of a Park District, which we have advocated before, would help in this matter.

McClory urges solar energy use

"Every day the sun floods the earth with enough light and heat to supply the whole world's energy many times over," Congressman Robert McClory declared on the Floor of the U.S. House of Representatives.

McClory, co-sponsor of a bill to provide funding for research and development of solar technology, emphasized the need for Congress to provide national leadership in the current problem-ridden energy area.

McClory urged tax incentives for individuals utilizing solar heating in new home construction. And he also encouraged solar heating and cooling specifications be included in all upcoming Federal building projects.

"While we wait in long lines for gasoline, turn our thermostats down and watch our current energy sources diminish, we have at hand the most unfailing source of energy in the sun," McClory said.

"The principles of solar heating are not complicated," stressed McClory. "People in various cultures have been using it effectively for centuries to heat their dwellings and their water. But we need now to apply the principles of this heating to our American cities, towns and farms."

"H.R. 11684 will push us farther along the path toward freedom from dependence on fossil fuels, pollution and the energy crunch," McClory said to his colleagues. "We owe this to the American people."

The Solar Energy Research measure passed the U.S. House of Representatives by a vote of 253 to 2.

He said that in Illinois, as in all other States, there is a State Fuel Allocation Office, which is in charge of the State Fuel Set Aside Program, i.e., fuel -- gasoline and middle distillates -- set aside for emergency situations. When less than a 30 day supply of fuel is available with no indication of possible deliveries from the supplier, the businessman should use the Illinois Petroleum Allocation Hot Line, which is done by dialing (217) 525-2444. A similar number is located in the Allocation Office to aid people in agriculture and related industries. The number is (217) 525-7250. The Allocation Office will issue forms to be completed and if requirements are met emergency allocations of fuel may be authorized.

The Congressman said that if a businessman feels that his base year allocation level is too low for some reason, it is possible to make application for an increase in the base year allocation level. The necessary form may be obtained from the Chicago FEO office by calling (312) 591-6025. When completed in full, this form is submitted to the fuel supplier that was the supplier in the corresponding month in the base year.

If there is any question about a change in the industry allocation designation, lack of delivery or stoppage of delivery by a supplier, or any other question related to such problems, the Chicago FEO office should be contacted.

Congressman McClory stated that if adequate assistance is not obtained he may be contacted at his office in Waukegan (312) 336-4554 -- or in Washington, D.C. (202) 225-5221.

Letters to the Editor on any current issues are welcome. Only letters with names can be considered for this column. Signatures will be withheld on request. Letters cannot be returned and are subject to minor editing.

OPENING PANDORA'S BOX ERA'S EFFECT ON CREDIT

If the Equal Rights Amendment is ratified every woman who is not employed outside her home will be without credit. This situation has nothing to do with her husband's willingness to support her. The legal requirements for him to do so will be gone, and no American business can extend credit to unemployed married women in the hope that their husbands will see fit to pay the bills. The legal requirement of men to support their wives is the basis for "Family Credit" -- charge accounts, time payments, mortgages, etc.

Under ERA, only a woman with her own credit rating based on her own earnings will be able to use an oil company credit card, department store charge plate, etc.

Is this what we as wives want? I suggest we take a closer look at ERA before we open Pandora's box.

For further information, write Illinois Stop ERA.

good one. The citizens present had been aroused by what they read in the newspaper and came to challenge the recommendation of the Planning Commission. They wanted to know "why" such a decision had been made.

Unfortunately, such citizen concern usually comes only when there is a personal gripe -- and often it comes too late. We wonder, too, whether people interested in this issue will continue to show up at Village meetings, or if they will drift away when this matter is resolved.

We need more citizens in attendance at these meetings, asking "why" before decisions are made.

Walking her way to happiness

"I have a birthday coming up next week, you know," Emma Roblin says, commenting that she will turn 88 on February 20th.

"But I don't feel it," she adds. "I feel more like 60."

Mrs. Roblin's activities would be remarkable even at that age. She keeps herself busy as most women half her age.

Perhaps the key to her pep is walking. "I do a lot of walking," she says, putting it mildly. She walks everyday, rain or shine, beginning with a four block jaunt to St. Peter's Church every morning. She walks downtown for her shopping, or around town to visit with friends. And every now and then, she still walks to the Antioch Packing House, which is at the opposite end of town from her home at 1015 Osmond.

"I call it my tonic," she laughs.

Her walking sometimes worries her friends. "People are always worried about me," she says, "and stop to offer a ride. But I turn them down because I'd rather walk. Then I call them up when I get home to tell them I'm alright."

Her friends may be worried because she walks with a cane, but she doesn't use it for any infirmity. "If people knew how much help a cane is when you're walking, they'd use one, too," she explains.

When Mrs. Roblin isn't out walking, she may be busy about her home. She lives now in a small apartment in the back of the home she and her late husband occupied until his death in 1951. The aroma of fresh baking bread often fills the rooms.

She explains that homemade bread goes about three times farther than store-bought bread. "The bread you buy is full of wind," is how she puts it.

She also does a lot of ironing, being responsible for all the tablecloths from Lorenz's Smart Country House. Sometimes she has as many as 120 tablecloths to iron at one time.

She used to work in the kitchen at the restaurant, and today she says she still loves to do dishes.

In her quiet hours, Mrs. Roblin knits and crochets. And she attends card parties regularly with her friends.

For many years, she kept herself busy by babysitting. She has babysat for many families in Antioch, including the Abderholdens, Allens, Rigbys, Maplethorpes and Smouses.

Her babysitting career began when Mrs. Maplethorpe wanted to teach, but needed someone to look after her four-month-old son - now a freshman in high school.

The many children she has helped to raise, she says, "know me quicker than I remember them."

Emma was born in Ashland, Illinois, "that's the other side of Springfield." As a youth she moved with her family to Lincoln, and went on to Silver Cross Hospital School of Nursing in Joliet. After she graduated in 1923, she met and married her husband. With a family, there was little chance for nursing. The family moved to Antioch in 1933.

Antioch has changed a lot since then, she agrees. "But I like Antioch. Everybody is so good to me. It makes me feel good when they are."

Speaking about the young people she meets everyday, she comments, "A lot of the children are so kind and thoughtful in offering to help me." She adds that she doesn't like to hear so much criticism about your people. "Of course, there are some little devils, too."

"I want people to know that I'm a very happy person;

they've been very good to me."

"I don't have a worry in the world. I don't let myself worry."

Map shows Antioch of 1990

The first phase of preparing Antioch's Comprehensive Plan came nearer to completion at Thursday's Planning Commission meeting with the presentation by Bruce Christensen of a proposed Preliminary Land-Use and Major Thorofare Map.

The map, which has yet to be approved by the Commission, shows the suggested land uses and street routings for Antioch 20 years in the future. After receiving the Commission's OK, a narrative will be prepared to explain and accompany the map. This document will serve as a Preliminary Plan, while the final Comprehensive Plan is drawn. The final product will include recommended changes in Village ordinances, zoning, etc.

It is practically impossible to explain everything on the map presented by Christensen, without going into great detail. It must be viewed and studied to be appreciated.

Yet, the map can also be misleading at first sight. It is, first of all, a compromise between what exists now and what is projected as ideal development in twenty years. Existing uses must be shown, except where they are considered to be completely non-conforming. Presently undeveloped areas, on the other hand, are shown as the planner indicates they should be allowed to develop. The map does not guarantee or advocate that the suggested development will actually take place, but merely sets guidelines as to what should be allowed when a particular area is developed.

Based on the maximum densities for each area, if all the development indicated actually took place, Antioch could have a population (in 20 or 30 years) of 20,000. This, however, according to Christensen, is not a concrete prediction, but is the maximum population for which services in these areas should be provided.

The Planning Commission will meet Thursday night, February 21, to discuss the planner's suggestions and pass judgement on it.

"The Commission's work is just beginning on this," Christensen said. "We've taken time in developing our recommendations; the Planning Commission must now take some time to review these and recommend any changes," he added.

Approval of the preliminary land-use and major thorofare map by the Commission would give Christensen authority to include it in the Preliminary Plan, along with the explanatory narrative. He said that this document might be ready for use by April.

PET CENTER

Pets
make our world more wonderful

Man invited animals to share his world when civilization began. Pets, from ants to zebras, have been petted, trained, cared for, observed, and above all, enjoyed for the affection and fun they give. Man reaches out to grasp a link with Nature through the animals he befriends and who befriend him.

Psychologists say we need this everyday contact with natural things. Without it, we feel the pressure and frustrations of our man-made environment closing in.

A pet shop owner sees this truth many times a day in his customers. One family comes in together to pick out a birthday present for the dog. Silly? Not at all. The dog is a member of their family! There's the teenage who's learning to show his dog and plans to become a professional handler. His pet gives him a goal; he's not wasting his youthful dreams in discontent. We enjoy the retired teacher who stops by to chat and buy a treat for her cat, and the busy executive who's a tropical fish buff. Watching his fish is more relaxing than a martini, he says. A little girl runs in every day or so to tell us about the new word her budgie has learned.

For these folks and millions more just like them, pets make the world more wonderful.

Unfortunately, not everyone feels that way. Dogs, they say, are noisy and dirty. Cats kill birds. Animals carry disease. Get rid of them, they shout. Pass laws to banish pets. Make the world safe and sanitary!

Is that what you want? Just a safe, sanitary world? Nothing more?

We think you agree - pets add a very special dimension to the lives of a majority of the people, to our environment if you will. Of course, we do not believe that a dog or any other pet should be a nuisance. Your dog should be well-mannered, and we'll tell you how you can train him and explain our local control laws, if you ask us.

In so far as humanly possible, we make sure the animals we sell are healthy and free of diseases. Actually, such diseases are few and incidence is relatively rare. After all, we too handle and live with our pets before they become your pets.

However, we don't believe that health and environmental problems will be solved by laws that make it difficult or impossible for people to own pets. Banning pets won't make our streets clean or safe. It won't make our children healthier. It would make our world a less wonderful place. People need pets and pets need people.

Together we can make a good environment for pets and people.

SAVE DOLLAR DAYS

FEB. 28 MARCH 1 & 2

Along the Way with Annie Mae

Get your pennies gathered for the Second Annual Antioch Dollar Days coming on February 28, March 1 & 2. Shop in town, save gas and keep your money where you live.

Congratulations to Rollie Schleusner who came in 21st in the "Beat the Champs" bowling tourney. To go with the honor Rollie received a new Ball, Bag and Shoes.

Kathy Sterbenz had a fun birthday party to celebrate her 13th birthday. Tobogganing and pizza sure can't be beat when it comes to the teenagers. Hope "Mom" finally got something to eat!

There is only one more weekend left to find out what "Lady Audley's Secret" is. It is really an entertaining spoof and very well performed. As the saying goes - The show must go on - Rita Shields playing Alicia Audley suffered a sore throat, but came thru like a real troupier on Saturday night. She should be in fine shape for this coming weekend so phone 395-9702 and make your reservations NOW.

With the hope of spring just around the corner comes the annual Antioch Grade School Fun Fair. Sunday, February 24 from 1-6 at the grade school tells all. Lots of games, clowns, balloons and cake walks - fun for the whole family is in store. Help support your school and have fun at the same time.

Other dates to keep in mind are: The Emmons Parents Club Fashion Show held on March 21; The Antioch Mental Health Ball to be held on May 4; the St. Peter VIP Dinner Dance on March 30; and "The Singing Sheppards" will present an evening of sacred music at the Antioch United Methodist Church at 7:30 on Tuesday, March 19. This is open to the public and everyone is welcome.

Birthday wishes this week go to that lovely lady, Emma Roblin who will be 88 years young today, February 20. Others celebrating on the 20th are Clarence Haase, Evelyn Freund and Rodney Dunlap. Jean Soby and Bunny Mihovlovich celebrate on the 22nd. Ellen Ryan celebrates on the 26th. Happy to all!!!

Fern Watson was a busy lady this weekend. She baked two cakes for the birthday celebration of Mr. Bob Wilton Sr. and his one year old grandson, Jimmy who both celebrated on the same day. A family gathering was held on Sunday. We are sorry to hear that Fern got the flu tho and couldn't make it to the Woman's Club to see Harry Volkman on Monday. Hear he really charms the women. Irene Hahn was acting president and did the honors of presenting Harry.

Glad to hear that Lucille Eberman is on the road to recovery. Also Irene Hahn was up and about this weekend but is anxiously awaiting a visit from the stork. Sorry to hear that Winsor Dalgaard is back in the hospital, but if wishing can help, we are all pulling for a speedy return home. The flu bug has hit many homes in the area. The schools have found many classrooms thinned out from it. Hank Bessler and his wife were hit with the flu this past week, and that's rough when the kids are well!. Also victims of the flu were the Bill Nauman children. Get plenty of rest; eat your vegetables and take vitamin C so YOU won't catch it.

Hi Deb. Boy we sure miss ya. We're waiting!!!!

On my way, trying to keep ahead of the "bug" too.

chosen as President of the Antioch Women's Club.

"I AM busy," she confides, "but I can always find something around the home to do in my spare time." Among her leisure activities she includes crocheting. The morning she was interviewed, she had already baked two cakes for a family birthday gathering.

Perhaps nothing has caught Fern with as much surprise as being notified that she is to be the 1974 V.I.P. It was about 9:15 in the evening, when Dan Dugenski telephoned to give her the news.

"I said, 'Are you sure you have the right person?' because it was such a surprise." She did not even know that her name was being considered for the honor.

The public is invited to an open house at the newly-opened re-election headquarters for Congressman Robert McClory scheduled from 3-5 p.m. at the Headquarters at 31 East Crystal Lake Avenue in Crystal Lake this Sunday Feb. 24.

Mrs. Frank D. Kenney,

Fern may have considered that there really was not that much in her life meriting such a distinct honor.

The unanimous vote of the selection committee states clearly that Fern Watson is assuredly an Antioch V.I.P.

chairman of the re-election committee, issued the invitation today as she announced establishment of the headquarters in the same building which served as similar headquarters for Congressman McClory in 1972.

Assisting as hosts and hostesses will be Ned Fisher, Waukegan; Mrs. Robert Peterson, Wauconda; Richard Meyers, Crystal Lake; Mrs. Arthur Jenner, Crystal Lake; Dr. Richard Verbic, Elgin; Scott Rexinger, Elgin; Phyllis Walters, Algonquin; and Tom Bott, Youth co-ordinator for Lake and McHenry counties.

Coed camping program at YMCA

Michael Warren, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Hastings YMCA stated that many lake's area children will be in the coed camping program at the YMCA this summer. Enrollment of campers from Waukegan and the communities surrounding the YMCA has been increasing over the past 6 years.

Because of its location and the present energy crisis the YMCA is an ideal setting for local children to participate in a well organized recreational and fun experience this summer while parents enjoy their vacation travels, said Warren.

Biking will be a big feature this summer with the recent acquisition of a fleet of 40 bikes, campers will enjoy touring the countryside surrounding the YMCA. ### Grass Lake Board schedule

Grass Lake School District 36 Board of Education will hold a special board of education meeting March 5, 1974 at 7:00 p.m. in the Grass Lake School to discuss the school's budget. The Regular Board Meeting will be held on March 12, 1974 at 7:00 p.m.

THE SECRET IS OUT. In this final scene, Lady Audley's Secret has, at last, been revealed and the entire cast songfully admonishes the audience to "Forgive Her." Forgive her for what? You'll have to see the play to find that out. Though several cast members appear dead here, they will come to life and everyone will, indeed, live happily ever after. (Staff photo)

Doesn't everybody know the secret?

A rumor is circulating that there are some people in the area who still do not know what Lady Audley's secret is. On the one hand, it is extremely difficult to believe this rumor. On the other - on the off chance that is just might be true - probably it should be pointed out that only two more opportunities remain to learn the secret from the horse's mouth. And when we say horse's mouth we mean horse's mouth.

The two remaining chances will take place on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 22 and 23. These are the dates of the last two performances of the highly successful musical comedy and melodrama, "Lady Audley's Secret," currently occupying the stage of the PM&L Theater, 877 Main Street, in Antioch. Curtain time for each performance is 8:30 p.m., and seats can be reserved in advance by calling 395-9702.

Any PM&L member would have to blush immodestly if he tried to tell you how successful this production, directed by Ken Smouse, really is. You are therefore referred to the rave reviews of this musical production carried by last week's newspapers. PM&L's remarkably talented cast is in the process of immortalizing such rousing song and dance numbers as "The English Country Life," "Civilized," "Dead Men Tell No Tales," "The Audley Family Honor," and the totally unbelievable "Firemen's Quartet."

Press notices have heaped innumerable kudos upon the performers. The musicians, Tracy Teltz on piano and David Rush on percussion, have so far hit fewer wrong notes in "Lady Audley's Secret" than in any other PM&L musical of recent memory. And the critical reviews have been generous in their praise of the eminently competent performances turned in by such principal members of the cast as Dena Fabry, as Lady Audley herself; Tessa Smith, Phoebe; Don Beveroth, Luke; Bob Bundy, Sir Michael Audley; Rita Shields, Alicia Audley; Lou Jones, Captain Robert Audley; and Tom Houseman, George Tallboys.

If the musical production should come and go, leaving you as the only one around who never found out what the secret was, chances are that you would find this dubious distinction difficult to live with the rest of your life. The best way to protect yourself against this fate worse than death is to call 395-9702, making your reservation to see "Lady Audley's Secret" on February 22 or 23.

ABC'S OF TRAVEL

Barb Corbin

Supplemental or non-scheduled airlines

As the name suggests, they are authorized to "supplement" scheduled service by providing "charter" flights. These flights do not operate on a regular basis between cities and towns but rather are operated for particular groups wishing to go to a particular place at a particular time. A supplemental airline has no obligation to provide public service on a regular basis.

The difference between scheduled and non-scheduled airlines is a matter of carefully developed law to assure that the public receives adequate service. In the absence of this law and distinction, airlines could decide when and where they would operate. Because the high-volume, long-distance routes would be the most profitable, the traveling public would have no guarantee that service to some regions of the country would be maintained.

Scheduled airline service is taken for granted by too many people today. Many tours come out at a very, very low price and if the fine print was read, one would see a supplemental airline is being used. This can be a bargain if all goes well, but if you end up at the other end of the World and NO airplane for your return - lots of luck. There isn't much one can do because of the lack of laws against this. As the end result, your scheduled airline service is the best bargain of all because of the guaranteed job they are around to provide. This is all provided by the federal government in an agreement (airline ticket) between you and the scheduled airline.

As a result of the various federal laws today, the American system of scheduled airlines have changed from a travel curiosity of yesteryear to a great provider of fast and reliable mass transportation system. Before you sign up for that next tour, either read the fine print or check with your local travel agent.

St. Therese announces temporary visitors' restrictions

St. Therese Hospital, 2615 W. Washington Street, Waukegan, announced today that, because of the prevalence of viral infections in the Lake County area, patient visiting hours must be limited until further notice.

According to Dr. R. M. Adelman, vice president for Medical Affairs, only the immediate family will be permitted to visit patients, --excluding children under fifteen years of age.

"The incidence of viral illness in the area is such," said Dr. Adelman, "that all necessary precautions must be taken immediately to safeguard our patients and prevent the spread of these infections."

Several fatalities have been reported in Lake County resulting from complications from viral infections.

Residents score Planners on advice

Several residents of North Main Street showed up at the Planning Commission meeting Thursday night and severely criticized that body for its recommendation against further rezoning for high density uses in their neighborhood. The Planning Commission had given its advice the previous week when it considered a preliminary draft of a land-use map for the Village.

Bruce Dalgaard led off the attack, explaining that he owns a home and two lots, surrounded on two sides by the Joanna Apartments. The property, he said, is pretty much useless now for anything other than multiple family.

"Why can't I have the privilege of having my property re-zoned as others on that street have," Dalgaard asked?

Fred Hawkins pointed out that a lot of the property is "not fit for one-family use," because it is completely land-locked now, surrounded by other homes and the railroad tracks.

After quite a bit of criticism had been leveled at the Planning Commission, professional planner Bruce Christensen took the floor to attempt to put the situation into perspective.

"I can't apologize for past rezoning in the Village," he started. His job, he said, is to make professional planning recommendations to the Planning Commission, which that body can accept or reject. He added that mistakes had been made in the past, but that all he could do was to try to see that more mistakes are not made in the future.

"What the land-use map does is set up guidelines for zoning," Christensen explained.

Emphasizing that each property owner still has "every right to petition for rezoning," he added, "You can't let piecemeal zoning occur or the whole community will be in the same position you are."

The residents stayed for some time after the meeting and adjourned, discussing the matter further with the planners on an individual basis. However, there was no indication that they were any more satisfied when they left than when the meeting began.

Meanwhile, the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet Tuesday night, February 26, to make a recommendation on the Young's petition. Final action in that case will be up to the Village Board.

Area woman held in son's shooting

Nancy Ellen Davis, 34, of rural Antioch was arraigned in Lake County Circuit Court Tuesday morning on a charge of murder.

She is accused in the shooting death of her 16-year-old son, Kenneth Scott Davis.

The incident took place about 2:00 Friday morning at the Red Arrow Inn on Deep Lake Road, north of Grass Lake Road.

Witnesses reportedly told sheriff's investigators that the boy and his mother had quarreled just before the shooting. It was reported that the mother took a gun from her purse and shot her son during the argument.

The Davis youth had dropped out of Antioch Community High School a little more than a year ago.

Committeemen endorse Bell, Coles and Murrie

The Republican Committeemen of Antioch, Fremont and Grant Townships have endorsed County Board candidates George R. Bell, Ronald R. Coles, and Lloyd E. Murrie for the March 19th Republican Primary election. In each case the committeemen cited the incumbent candidates' record of achievement in representing the County Board District No. 4.

Leona Borst, chairman of the Fremont Republican Committeemen Organization, stated:

"The committeemen are well-satisfied with the good job being done by our incumbent County Board candidates. We believe that it would be unwise to make any changes now in County Board representation from our District."

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Steffenburg, of Antioch, Illinois were among 10 couples from Illinois who spent their vacation recently at King's Inn Motel in Sun City Center, Florida. Graduation is approaching at ACHS. Although there are almost four months left for the seniors, caps and gowns will be fitted on March 1st. Announcements were voted on last Thursday.

The girls played their last game Tuesday, against Cary

Grove. Last week they played Wauconda and Zion-Benton. The "A" team beat Wauconda, but was defeated by Zion. The "B" team lost their two games. Since this is the first year of girls sports at ACHS, they were pleased to see the number of spectators that came to their basketball games. Except for one thing, some of the male students used the games as a place to laugh. Instead of giving the girls a chance to show their ability, some people would just see how rude they could be. Instead of laughing at the way the girls play basketball, perhaps they should take a look at themselves.

Executive Board meetings were held by the Junior and Freshmen classes. Members were urged to come because of the importance of the meetings.

The Tom-Tom staff is busy preparing for its March issue. Another meeting was held last week to give more writing assignments.

Arts and Crafts and Antique Fair takes shape

Mr. Bill Barr has informed us that the Arts and Crafts and Antique Fair date has been set for July 6, 1974. This is the second such fair and due to the popularity of the first one, the second one should prove to be bigger and better.

On Thursday, March 14, at 7 p.m. there will be a general meeting for making plans for the Fair. Mr. Barr is looking for anyone interested in helping on any of the committees. There will be a coffee hour and general conversation prior to the meeting which will get down to business at 7:45 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending or desiring further information please call Bill Barr at 395-2303.

Board considers two sewer projects

Bids were opened Friday, February 15, for the Oakwood Knolls storm sewer project. W.H. Lieman of Palatine was the apparent low-bidder with a figure of $74,985. Next high bidders were J.R. Meyer of Zion, at $81,323.75; and E & R Robinson of Gurnee, at $84,495.

Seven other firms submitted bids ranging from $85,000 to $115,000. Mayor Robert Wilton reported at Monday's Village Board meeting that the low bids are well within Village Engineer Frank Angelotti's estimate.

However, Trustee Irv Walsh announced that he had received a phone call from Angelotti several hours before the meeting. The engineer informed him, Walsh said, that the Lieman firm was still in the process of getting State qualification.

On Walsh's motion, the trustees agreed to delay the awarding of the contract for two weeks to determine if the low bidder is qualified. Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said that she will retain the security checks from the three low bidders until the contract is signed.

Another sewer project advanced to the bidding stage at Monday's meeting. This job would extend a sanitary sewer from Depot Street just east of Main, across the open area behind the stores on the east side of Main Street, to Park Avenue, and then along the railroad tracks to a connection with an existing sewer at Ida Avenue and Bishop Street.

Trustee Bill Seemann told the trustees that he wished to review the plans with Angelotti, Public Works Director Tod Mapleshorpe and Building Inspector Walter Delaney. Once they have approved the plans, Seemann said, the job will be ready to let for bids.

The Board agreed to advertise for bids next week, to be opened at the April 1st Board meeting.

Delaney reported that the McMillen Road watermain extension is now complete, except for clean-up and testing. The trustees approved payment of $28,750 to Dempsey Ing, Inc. for their work. The remaining 10 percent of the total project cost will be paid upon completion of the clean-up.

Because of complaints from residents living near the Salvation Army collection bins on Turner Dr., the Board decided to move the bins to a location in the industrial area. The neighbors had complained about people rummaging through the containers late at night.

Seemann proposed that they be removed from the Village entirely, a suggestion that died for lack of a second. Walsh then suggested the industrial area site, which the other trustees accepted.

Michael Lindstrom was hired for a full-time position with the Public Works Department. He had been working full-time, but on a temporary basis.

On the recommendation of Building Inspector Delaney, the Antioch News was granted permission to operate an office in the building presently occupied by Bernadette's Art Store at 896 Main Street. The owner of the building informed the Board that no printing would be done at that location, that it would involve primarily office-type activities. Delaney was also authorized to issue a permit for the necessary remodeling in the building.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Jesus proved that man is made in the image and likeness of God, his creator. This will be brought out at Churches of Christ, Scientist this Sunday in the Bible Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read: "There can be but one Mind, because there is but one God; and if mortals claimed no other Mind and accepted no other, sin would be unknown. We can have but one Mind, if that one is infinite."

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte 173 & Harden, Antioch, Illinois begin at 11 a.m. The public is always invited, and care for children is provided.

"Hindsight's Better Than Foresight"

By Father Keusal

The following is a continuation of the letter I received from a friend on the film, "The Exorcist."

(People are flocking to this movie. But people also flock to other gross happenings. I have seen whole city blocks of people stampede from their homes for the chance to view the gut strewn corpse of the latest traffic fatality down at the corner. I wonder if author Blatty would charge admission to such an accident? If he did, I'll wager he'd get his price.

People use people. Peter Blatty uses the actors who "perform" in his film and worse yet, he uses his viewers. I challenge any professor or teacher to use Blatty's character development. Character development - hog wash! There are no characters in this story.

People do things with motives behind their action. The girl, the mother, the two priests aren't people... what are their motives? Why are they on the screen in front of me? Why did these actors accept such a role? And why did I fork out four bucks to see this junk?

Why? Certain people like to be used, stepped on and hurt. The only kick some people get out of life is to be taken advantage of by other people

We like it. We're sick!

See you the next time "Bambi" comes 'round.)

Next week we'll answer some of these questions and make other comments on the film, "The Exorcist."

Antioch Adventurer news

Our meeting started with bowling at the Antioch Bowling Lanes. After three games the club proceeded to the Antioch Methodist Church for their monthly meeting. As old business we further discussed what service the club could render to our community. New business was brought up including upcoming events with special stress concerning the JLO Multi-County dance. It will be held March 2nd at 7:30 at the fairgrounds in Grayslake. The band playing will be Black Giants. Also as new business we discussed possible places for our annual 4-H tour.

Many suggestions were given but no definite decisions were made. Three demonstrations were given. First Bob Dubek gave a talk on first aid. Kelly Selak showed us how to decorate rice krispies for Valentines Day. Susan Meuter told us how to make a foreign cookie called Brecele. Since our guest speaker could not be with us we viewed some slides. They were about Proper Nutrition and How To Make a Terrarium. This concluded our meeting.

Clever Clovers meet

The February business meeting of the "Clever Clovers," local 4-H group, met at the Methodist Church Thursday evening. After the meeting two demonstrations were given.

One on baking by Tom Poulos and one on ceramics by Beth McLellan. The Pebble pups met to discuss display boxes for exhibiting their rocks at the fair.

St. Peter School observes "Catholic Schools Week"

Across the nation, Catholic schools are taking a new look at themselves and their role in today's society. Schools that formerly felt that they were in second place when compared to public schools are now holding their heads high as they become aware of their impact on social life.

The three-fold dimension of Catholic Education...Message, Community, and Service...demands response from those it seeks to inform. Message is perhaps the element most vividly understood. Catholic parents have traditionally chosen Catholic schools so that their children would be taught the precepts of the faith, and develop and awareness of and commitment to basic Christian values of love, peace, brotherhood and respect for others.

Fellowship and the development of a sense of Community is an inherent part of faith education. Through liturgy celebrations, school activities, and as reflected in the basic concern for growth of the individual, which is evidenced in increased personal attention to students, the schools build in their students a recognition of man's need for, and responsibility to his fellow men.

The giving of Service to the human community follows the teachings of the gospel message, and the building of community. Service is the end result of effective education in the teaching of Christ: that love of God is reflected through love and service to man.

It is the integration of these three elements with the educational process which makes Catholic schools different. They are unique in their fundamental religious conviction, a conviction which recognizes the transcendent importance of Christian values and personal growth to the overall education and personal liberation of the individual child.

A basic concern of all who are associated with St. Peter School is the ways in which their school expresses the essential elements of message, community, and service.

Recent parent-teacher conferences provided parents with an opportunity to meet teachers whose lives are a message of communal service committed to children.

Other occasions arise that permit the public to observe school involvement. Class dramas, Rhythm band, and group activities, all reveal the inner

The Ice Fishing Derby held this past weekend on the south end of the lake at Mr. Wonderfults was a huge success. The event was sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club and the 885 Club and the weather for both days was beautiful which helped make it the success it was.

Many of our residents were winners of prizes including the big prize of a snowmobile going to Randy Marcussen. Randy, who is a freshman at Antioch High School is the son of Don and Donna Marcussen.

Winning some of the game prizes were Kathy Behrens and Lorraine Lemke the 3 legged race, Rich and Kathy Behrens won the egg throwing contest and 11 year old Kathy Bailey won the sack race.

The dog sled races were very interesting and enjoyed by all that viewed them. Even residents living along the channel got to see them as the channel was part of the race trail.

The Dog Sled association presented the Bi-State Snow mobile Club with a trophy for their outstanding work in patrolling the trails. Many of our residents spent the two days on the lake with their machines making sure the dog sled races were the success they were.

Marley Gauger held a weiner roast on his farm for the snowmobile club last Saturday evening. Attending from our area were the Rich Behrens's, Don Marcussen's, Bud Baker's, Bob Lemke's, Gene Rudolph's, Dan Runyard's, John Runyard's, Dick Rogers' and Don Bjork's.

Tom and Dorothy Chase attended the 4-H Leaders Recognition Dinner last Saturday evening at the Farm Bureau in Grayslake. Carl Bietzel was awarded a 5 year pin but was unable to attend the dinner as he was working the Derby all day and was too tired to go out that night.

Emil Frozeth celebrated his 87th birthday on Thursday with a party at his home. Many of Mr. Frozeth's friends stopped by to wish him many happy returns.

Happy Birthday to Nancy Harland who celebrated her 11th birthday on Monday with a hot dog supper for 7 of her classmates.

workings of educational process. The Science Fair, held last Friday, gave evidence of much community activity through the school.

Happily, Catholic schools have accepted the challenge to prepare young people to live strong Christian values in addition to broadening their knowledge and experience in many areas.

EMMONS RAIDERS RIDE TO EIGHTH STRAIGHT

The Emmons Raiders traveled to Millburn for a conference game. The Mustangs offered tough opposition through three periods before being subdued 57-35.

Tracy Sodman proved to be almost the entire Emmons offense in the early going. Sodman alone outscored Millburn 6-4 for the first stanza.

In second quarter Emmons matched a balanced attack against the sharpshooting of Mark Berthold and Mark Herman. These two scored Millburn's second quarter total of 13 points.

Despite the fact Emmons outscored Millburn in the opening half, the Raiders could not expand their lead beyond.

Emmons statistically dominated Millburn. The Raiders outrebounded the Mustangs 29-20. Sodman led all players with 11 rebounds, added to his hot shooting of 7 for 9 from the floor for 14 points. Bill Dubek took games honors with 18 points. Herman matched 13 points for losing Millburn, while Berthold totaled 14.

As a team Emmons shot an outstanding 25 for 44, Millburn shooting from outside more often hit 18 of 56 shots.

The B team found Emmons a winner by a 39-28 score. Roger Plechaty of Emmons a career high of 17 points for scoring honors. Bob Sertic of Millburn contributed a team high of 15.

SEQUOIT CAGERS WIN TWO

The Antioch Sequoits continued their winning ways by beating North Chicago 65-58 and Woodstock 76-67 over the weekend.

The Sequoits, using just the five starters during the entire game, came on strong in the second half to win a hard fought game at North Chicago. Game scoring honors went to Mike Gutowski and Mike Perrone as they each scored 18 points. Gutowski had a super game, "he played his best total game of the season," added coach Andrews. Perrone also lead the team in rebounds with 8.

The game started out fast for North Chicago, as they hit the board real well, beating the Sequoits in rebounding 19-7 in the first quarter. But, thanks to many missed easy shots by North Chicago, the Sequoits stayed close and trailed by only 5 points at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Sequoits changed their defense from zone to man defense, which gave the Sequoits better rebound position and the cagers began to take control of the game, but the Antioch cagers still trailed North Chicago by 5 points at half time 30-25.

The second half was all Antioch as the cagers outscored North Chicago 40 to 28 and controlled the boards. Also, a change in the offense at the beginning of the 4th quarter was very helpful as the Sequoits changed a 43-42 lead to an eleven point 53-42 advantage. From this point on the Sequoits held the lead to win a key non-conference game.

On Saturday the Antioch cagers returned to conference play traveling to Woodstock. The Sequoits lead by the scoring of Mark Andrews and Mike Gutowski with 20 and 19 points respectively - coasted to a 76-67 victory.

Using a full court press, the Sequoits moved out quickly to lead and by the end of the quarter had the game in their back pocket, leading 28 to 6.

With three starters in four trouble in the first half, coach Andrews used his reserves in the second quarter. The team maintained their 20 point lead through the first half, as the half ended with the Sequoits leading 47-26.

The second half was played with both teams using their reserves and experimenting with different combinations.

Vic McGuire lead the Sequoits with 11 rebounds, with the teams strong pressing defense turning in many intercepted passes, helped guide the team to victory.

With this victory, the Sequoits are leading the conference race by two games, with three games to be played. Their next game is at home against Grant, the team that is in second place. a victory over Grant would give the Sequoits the conference title.

The Antioch Sophomore Basketball team got back on the winning track last weekend by defeating North Chicago on Friday by a score 49 to 47 and on Saturday defeating Woodstock 59 to 44. The game with Woodstock was a Conference game and brought Antioch's Conference record to 9 wins and 1 loss keeping them in possession of 1st place. The two wins left the Sophs with a season record of 15 wins and 6 losses.

Antioch grabbed an early lead in the North Chicago game but North Chicago stayed right on their heels to make the game close and exciting right down to the final buzzer. George Ferguson and Jon Bodin led the Antioch scoring with 15 points each, followed by Jeff Eder with 11, Scott Kimball with 6 and Tom McAvoy with 2. Tom McAvoy played an outstanding defensive game and George Ferguson gave Antioch a big lift with his rebounding efforts for the evening.

In the Woodstock game the Sophs again gained an early lead and they were able to keep an 8 to 10 point lead throughout most of the contest. Jeff Eder sparked the Antioch attack with 23 points, followed by George Ferguson with 13, Scott Kimball and Jon Bodin with 10 each, Tim Sheppard with 2 and Bob Dubek with 1. George Ferguson again led in the rebounding department with 17 rebounds for the evening. Scott Kimball added 13 rebounds to give Antioch a decisive edge over Woodstock in that department.

Antioch's Sophs displayed teamwork on both offense and defense in the games against North Chicago and Woodstock. On several occasions they were able to get their fastbreak going and beat the other team for an easy basket. On defense they were playing as a team, helping to pick up the loose man, and several times forced their opponents to make a mistake.

Antioch is at home this Friday against Grant and travels to Grayslake for a game Saturday evening. Two wins over the weekend would assure Antioch of a 1st place finish.

Four wrestler advance to Sectionals

Antioch crowned two champions and two second place winners this weekend at the District Tournament held at Antioch.

Scott Shaffer captured the 112 pound class championship with three straight wins, including a 3-1 win in the finals.

Dirk Dietz had a pin and two wins to win the honors at 119. Dirk defeated arch rival Geoff Sandberg of Grant 3-2 in the finals.

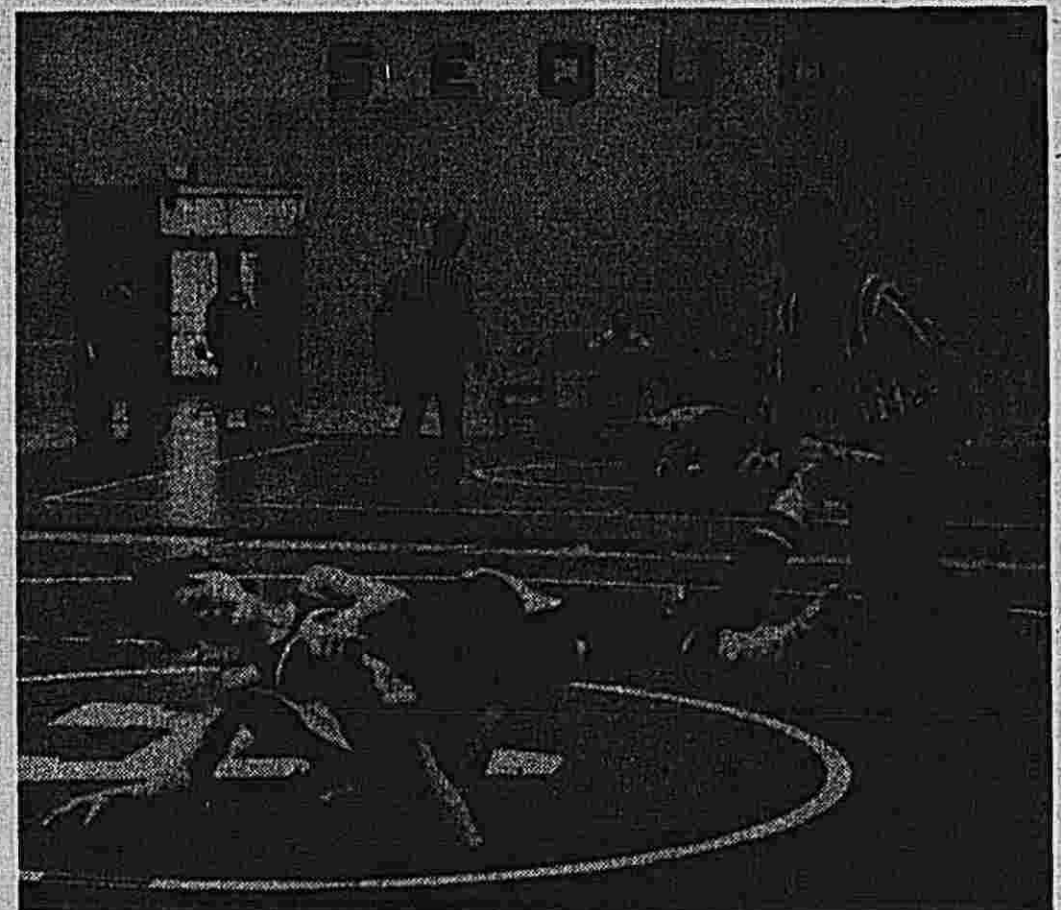

Both of Antioch's second places were hard earned victories. Brian Parpan at 98 lbs won his first match over Woodstock, then defeated the conference champion Dennis McDermitt of Round Lake to go to the finals. Brian lost in the finals to Knapp of Crystal Lake and had to wrestle back against Welter of Grant to assure his second. He beat Welter 5-0 to stay in second.

Jim January at 138 followed the same route that led Parpan to his second. Jim won two matches to take him to the finals but lost there 5-0. One hour later Jim had to wrestle to save his second place and he did with a 1-0 win over Sedar of Round Lake.

Antioch's four wrestlers along with the Waukegan, Rockford, and Wheeling district wrestlers will compete at the Barrington Sectional this weekend. The top two wrestlers in each weight class in the sectional advance to the state tournament March 1st and 2nd at Champaign.
